WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

"We wanted a one-stop shop with the ability to drive the entire solution and meet aggressive timescales. The quality and reliability of the Atos Origin staff, combined with in-depth application knowledge, meant that we could happily concentrate on internal service re-engineering and other issues knowing that the software would be configured in time for us to go live."

Andrew McManus,
Head of Information Systems and Communications, Newport City Council

"TNS needed a partner to help us to transform our finance function and create a single view of the business across our North America operations. Atos Origin provided strong leadership and technical expertise in both Oracle Applications and Shared Services in a challenging and often changing environment. With Atos Origin's help we greatly exceeded our original scope and went live simultaneously with Oracle and a new Shared Service Centre."

Andrew Boland,
Group Finance Director, TNS plc

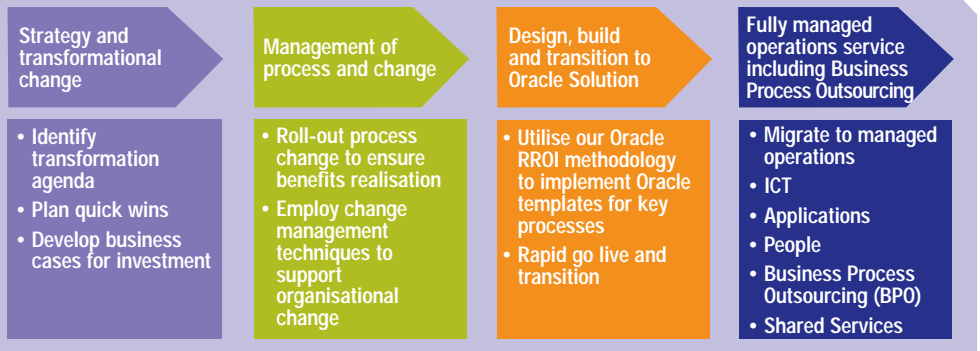

"All the guys, the whole project team, were very focused on delivery. That was a key strength. We would never have got to where we are now without that focus, and the impetus that they provided."

Nick Beighton,
Business Change Director, Matalan

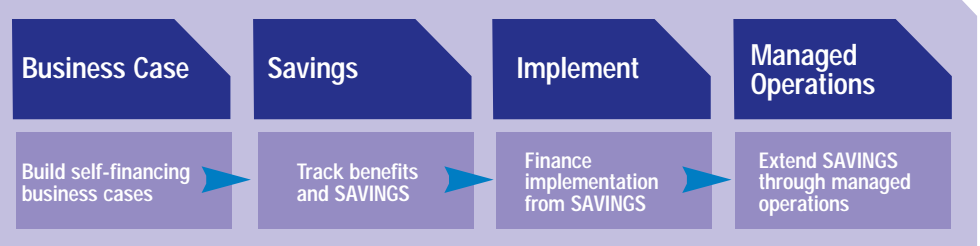

"We selected Atos Origin based on the breadth and depth of its resources and on its ability to implement quickly and cost effectively using its RROI methodology for Oracle implementations. Allied's business is expanding rapidly so supplier responsiveness is very important to us. We have also been particularly impressed with the cost and timescales benefits of using Atos Origin's off-shore software development resources."

Kevin Taylor,
ICT Director, Allied Healthcare
